

Countermeasures against infectious gastroenteritis and food poisoning caused by NOROVIRUS

~Pay special attention in winter~

(ノロウイルスによる^{の ろ う い る す}感染性^{かんせんせい}胃腸炎^{いちょうえん}・食中毒^{しょくちゅうどくたいさく}対策)

Food poisoning is not only in summer. Food poisoning caused by norovirus occurs frequently from autumn to cold winter.

Norovirus is transmitted through the infected person's fingers and contaminated food, and symptoms such as nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, abdominal pain, and low-grade fever occur in about 24 to 48 hours. Norovirus is extremely infectious and easily causes outbreaks, so caution is required. Be especially careful with infants, the elderly, and people with weakened immunity, as symptoms can become severe.

In addition, norovirus has no effective preventive or therapeutic drugs or vaccines. Let's take preventive measures thoroughly. If you experience diarrhea or vomiting, drink plenty of fluids and see a doctor as soon as possible.

[Points of prevention]

•Thoroughly "wash your hands"

Especially before meals, after the toilet, and before and after cooking, wash your hands carefully with soap and rinse thoroughly with running water.

•Prevent "infection from food and utensils"

For foods such as bivalves (for example, oysters) that may be contaminated with norovirus, sufficient heating (center is 85 ° C to 90 ° C for 90 seconds or more) is required. Always keep your cooking utensils clean, such as washing them immediately after use. Hot water disinfection (1 minute or more at 85 ° C or higher) is effective for cutting boards, kitchen knives, tableware, towels, etc.

•Prevent "infection from humans"

It is secondarily transmitted from the stool and vomit of an infected person. When treating diarrheal stools and vomit, wear a disposable apron, mask, and gloves, and gently wipe them off with a paper towel to prevent them from splashing around. After that, wipe it off with hypochlorous acid (chlorine concentration about 200 ppm) and wipe it with water. Clothes that are soiled by vomiting are treated with boiling water (washing) or disinfected with chlorine bleach containing sodium hypochlorite. Dispose of used aprons, masks, gloves, and filth in a plastic bag.

Elderlies are aimed at. Beware of mail like "I'll give you money!"

(高齢者が狙われています。「お金をあげる」メールに注意)

Question: I live on the pension and life is not easy. I received an e-mail. It said, "I inherited a billion yen and want to give money to needy persons." And I believed it.

I registered on a dating website as requested for contact. I bought points according to the instructions written there but I could not receive any money yet. I now know that I was deceived as my children pointed it out. I want to regain the money because my life is difficult. (Male in 70s)

Answer: Recently, there is no end to the number of victims who are involved in difficult troubles on the internet. In cases like this question, you must buy points before contacting the site owner. The victim may have bought lots of points before realizing that he was misled. More often than not, no evidence is left on the internet and it is extremely difficult to regain the lost money.

Also, there are many scams that abuse prepaid cards sold at convenient stores etc. Many elderly people who have only a few people to consult with become the victims of such scams.

If you have any doubt, please feel free to consult with the Consumer Affairs Center. Tel. 047-492-1111 (Ext. 3202) (Monday through Friday 10:00 a.m. ~ 4:00 p.m.)

Place: City Hall, main building 2F.

Did you finish influenza vaccination?

This year, infections by a previously unknown virus called new corona virus spread from the beginning of the year. New life style activities are recommended such as, wearing a mask every day, washing hands, disinfection of fingers and keeping social distance. The actions like wearing a mask and washing hands are also effective for the prevention of influenza that begins to spread around this time of the year.

This year, the city sent a vaccination medical interview sheet to each elderly person over 65 years old, and also to each person aged between 60 and 64 years with a physical disability note (grade 1) due to kidney or heart disease etc. Persons with the interview card can receive the influenza vaccination free of charge. Please get the vaccination as early as possible.

This year, the city recommends the vaccination to persons with underlining conditions like chronic illness, pregnant women, and children between 6 months old and 2nd grade of elementary school. If such persons want to take the vaccination, please do so as soon as possible.

Important points in the prevention of influenza

2. Refrain from going out in crowds when the flu is spreading.
3. Take enough and balanced nutrition, and increase your physical strength and resistance to disease.
4. Maintain a suitable temperature and humidity using a humidifier etc.

2. Melt condiments with water in a cup.
3. Pour sesame oil in a skillet and stir-fry ① over high heat. Add sakura shrimp and spray ② evenly on skillet. Continue stir-frying, cutting off the soup from cabbage.
4. Serve on a dish and spray with pepper.

A word from an adviser for the improvement of eating habits

The key point is to drain the water well after rubbing the cabbage with salt. Then, the cabbage will not be watery and you can enjoy its crispy texture. The flavor of sakura shrimp is an accent and makes the taste more elegant. It's an easy recipe that you can make in a short time with only a skillet.
